

HOME VISIT COCOON

My Home, My Pride and Joy

Interior Design: Nic & Wes

This conserved walk-up apartment in Tanjong Katong has been granted a new modern contemporary lease of life. From the use of geometric patterns and a hushed monochromatic palette with unexpected splashes of colour, the 1,900 sq ft 4-bedroom maisonette is full of surprises at every corner. This is definitely a home that will elicit pride from the owner. Let's show it off!

Click on thumbnails to view larger images

Living Room

Here, black and white stripes add an interesting texture to the wall and the whole look of the place. A sheer curtain acts as a divider between the living room and the dining area while the hook lamp provides a unique and refreshing touch to the space.

Dining Room

A dash of red injects cosiness into this classy dining area. The panel mirrors reflect the light from the chandelier, adding extra sparkle.

Family Room

An intimate space adorned with a three-panel art piece where the family can hang out and spend quality time together.

COCOON

- COCOON
- HOME VISIT
- DESIGNER'S LOOK
- ART OF LIVING
- HOME FINANCE
- HOMEWORK
- HOME TECH
- SMART LIVING
- TASTEBUDS

FREE
Interior Design
Consultation
Click Here>>

UP TO 70% OFF
Everything home
wayfair.com SHOP NOW ▶

SEARCH DIRECTORY

By Keywords By Company Name

Search Home Decor, Renovation, Int

▶ Go to Advance Search

Mailing List

Name

Email

Kitchen

A cool, minimalist-looking kitchen area with a breakfast counter that's morning rush-friendly. The sliding glass window and transparent door lets you do the cooking while containing the smell and splashes to the kitchen area without cutting up the space.

Master Bedroom

Royal purple gives life and contrast to the running monochromatic theme.

Study Room

The long and narrow study table makes full use of the space available.

Previously

Modern Chic Haven / Bali-Thai Fusion Home / A Home That's So Resorticious / More >>